

Ice Forming on Streams and Ponds

The cold weather thus far has tightened up the lakes and ponds of the county. Ice skating was opened Sunday at Struble's pond in this city and a number of people enjoyed skating on Mirror Lake at Golden Rule Inn. Monday workmen began cutting 13 inch ice on Winnisook Lake at the Winnisook Club in Shandaken.

There is plenty of floating ice in the Hudson river but Rondout creek remains ice free. Navigation is going on unhampered in the river.

The report was offered by Supervisors Wilkin and Stanbrough. Supervisor Wilkin then moved that Section 2 of Rule 6 be suspended so that resolutions and reports calling for appropriations could be acted upon the same day as received. Unanimously carried.

the salary of the deputy county clerk, and since Benjamin Slutsky, the deputy county clerk, had not been appointed until October 1, 1936, that the balance of the fund was now $1,500, and he moved that the sum of $500 be transferred from the salary fund to provide for extra clerk hire during the year. Carried.

Supervisors Wilkin and Stanbrough moved that the following appropriations be granted and that the sums be raised on the county:

Unanimously adopted.

Supervisors Wilkin and Stanbrough then moved that the report of the Committee on Appropriations be adopted, fixing the county budget at $820,105.68.

The First Discussion

This brought up the first discussion of the evening and the first of the session. Supervisor McDowell asked about the County Auditor fund. He inquired whether it were not a fact that the County Auditor had reported a balance of over $20,000 in the fund. Last year there was raised about $58,000 he said and with less than $40,000 expenditures last year the board was now asking to make an appropriation of $40,000 which together with the $20,000 balance would give a fund of $60,000 for 1937 when it appeared that in 1936 the total funds spent were far less than the appropriation. He asked for an explanation since there was no minority representative and no way of ascertaining the situation without an explanation from the clerk or the committee.

Supervisor Snyder said that he believed that there had been an additional appropriation last year which brought the total amount available up to some $72,000, inclusive of salaries and that there had actually been some $50,000 expended. Mr. Stang looked up the report and it was stated that Mr. Snyder's explanation was correct and in addition the committee felt that during the coming year it might be necessary to re-roof some of the county buildings which were in bad condition and for that reason it was decided best to include in the 1937 appropriation a sum sufficient to do this work if it became necessary. This plan of raising the money now instead of borrowing it later, if the necessity arose was the reason for requesting the greater sum.

The appropriations report was adopted by the vote of 27 to 4.

Resolutions of the previous session were called up and adopted.

The business of the board being concluded until the time comes for approval of the tax levy, it was moved that the board adjourn until December 29 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

No Hum! Back To Bed
Paterson, N. J., Dec. 15 (AP)—Joe Pipp has gone back to bed and set the alarm clock for March 19. He said a crystal gazer told him that if he remained in bed until that day, his 37th birthday, he would arise to find prosperity is back. So Joe, a sports promoter, went to bed November 23 and stayed there three weeks, varying the monotony with an occasional blast of his cornet. His hibernation was interrupted, however, by a fire in his restaurant downstairs. A whole 24 hours on his feet was too much for Joe. He consulted the crystal gazer again, heard the prosperity formula repeated, and crawled back between the sheets last night.

Confessed Murder Then Hanged Self

Lansing, Mich., Dec. 15 (AP)—Sheriff Allan A. McDonald said today that 25-year-old Hope Morgan, before she hung herself in a jail cell this morning, had scrawled a confession on pages of a magazine, that she killed her best friend because of "jealousy."
The girl's statement, made as she awaited a sanitary commission report that would determine whether she faced trial on first degree murder charges, was scratched with pencil and burned matches on the margins of magazines found in her cell.
McDonald said the notes, some of them barely legible, told how Miss Morgan was "jealous and disappointed" because her friend, Elizabeth Giltner, was about to be married, and that she felt she would be "left out of the picture."
Miss Giltner was shot to death as the two girls sat addressing wedding

Steps to Be Taken When Building Here

At a conference held with Mayor C. J. Hetselman on Monday afternoon, which was attended by City Engineer Norton, City Assessor Moore and Plumbing Inspector Gregory, it was brought out that anyone planning to erect a new house or garage, or to remodel a present structure that he or his representative must first apply to the city's engineer's office and fill out an application blank on a form provided by the city engineer, and then must visit Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy and obtain a building permit.

Under the city zoning law unless these preliminary steps are taken the city can collect a penalty of $100 a day.

The meeting was called primarily to discuss the building situation in Kingston and discuss the question of having a central office or department where all building permits are on file so that the necessary information needed by the assessor in laying assessments may be readily accessible.

Fire Chief Murphy was out of town that day and unable to attend the conference and it was decided to hold another meeting shortly when all of the city departments interested could be represented.

PATTERN 5475

Pears—cantaloupes—peaches, and every one "home grown"! That's the boast of you who embroider these seven, gay fruit motifs. Place them on towels, and see how colorful they'll make your kitchen. Eight-to-the-inch cross stitch, worked in brightly colored thread, makes these fruits wonderfully realistic, while the china and tableware motifs add their bit to the design in outline stitch. In pattern 5475 you will find a transfer pattern of seven motifs averaging 4 1/2 x 8 inches; color suggestions, material requirements, illustrations of all stitches used.

Annapolis

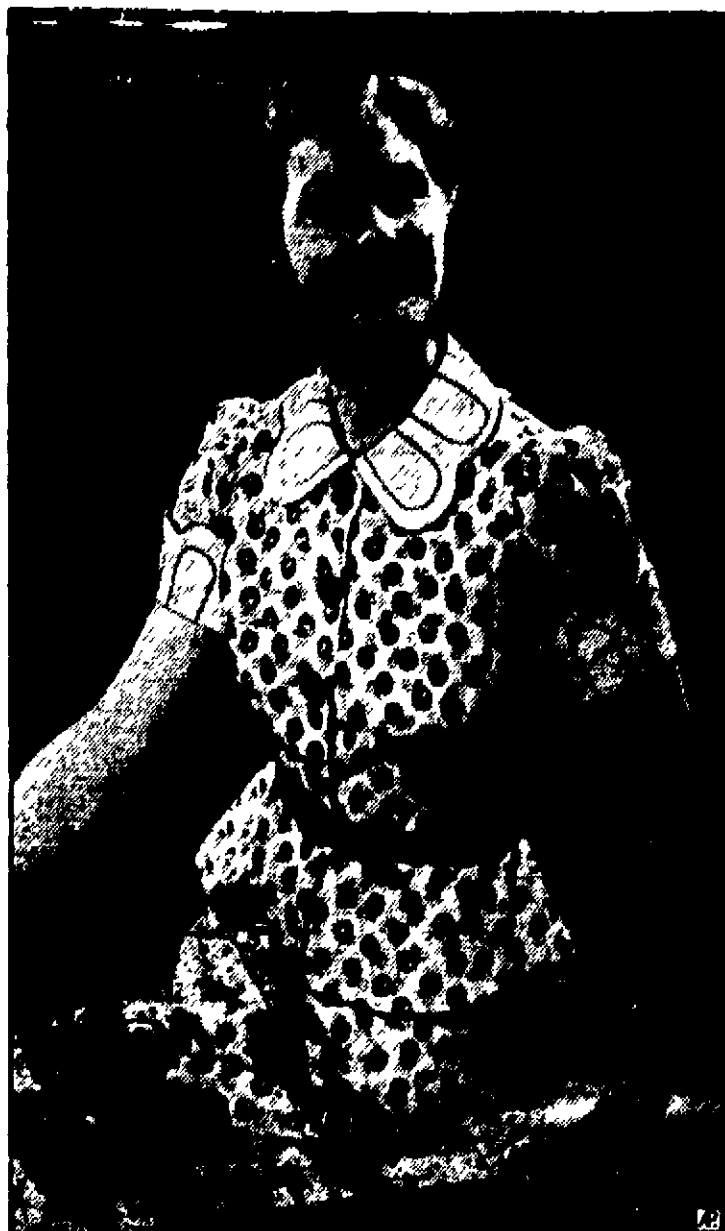

The Army decided that the Naval Academy should be located at Annapolis, Md., and the academy opened there in the face of opposition of congress in 1845. Secretary of the Navy (and historian) George Bancroft, not daunted by unwillingness of congress to set up such an institution, exercised his authority to decide that midshipmen should wait at Annapolis for sea orders and undergo instructions while there. Thus the academy was launched. Annapolis was the location because it was the only coastal post the Army was willing to abandon, to provide quarters.

Making Porcelain

Porcelain, or chinaware, is made of a special white clay called kaolin. Originally, kaolin was found only in China, but now in many parts of the world. Porcelain is made the same as other pottery, but is shaped thinner and with more care. It is often as thin as wrapping paper and quite translucent when held up to the light. Anything made of baked clay, however, is pottery—even bricks.

BRIGHTEN YOUR OLD SOFA WITH A SLIP COVER

Why be ashamed of your shabby living room?

It's easy to hide dinginess with slip covers that fit snug as an onion skin and peel off for laundering. They're smart, inexpensive, surprisingly simple to make.

A sofa's no harder to cover than a chair. It takes only a few more yards of material, three panels over back and seat instead of one, and three cushion covers.

Just smooth your material down the back and across the seat, tucking a four-inch fold into that back crease. Otherwise, heavy slitters may strain your fabric to the ripping point as they squash down the springs.

Now pin the smoothed fabric along seam lines of the shabby upholstery. Then cut 1 1/2 inches outside the pin rows for seam allowance. Go on, swiftly smoothing and pinning material to each section of the chair and shaping your pieces this patternless way.

For inexpensive slip-cover fabrics that wear, try dress goods as well as drapery counters. Among the heavy seersuckers, linen-finished cottons and broadcloths you'll find the new vibrant colors—delphinium and turquoise blues, emerald and chartreuse greens, coral and flame—that now appear in only the most expensive drapery fabrics.

Our 40-page booklet gives clear diagrams and step-by-step instructions for measuring yardage, shaping, cutting, fitting and finishing sleek covers for all types of chairs and sofas. Directions for permanent upholstery, too.

By L. L. STEVENSON

Village Timepiece. Residents of Greenwich village, whose abodes are within sight of Jefferson Market court, the old red brick structure at Sixth avenue and Eighth street, have been watching the clock in the tower with more than usual interest lately. The clock, the faithful informant as to arising time, hours for engagements, goings and comings and even when to take the roast from the oven, betrayed its constituents not so long ago by stopping. The interruption in the service was not long, repairs being made promptly. But the clock having failed once, there is a fear that it might fall into bad habits, hence the close inspection. I am pleased to report, however, that since the experts performed the operation necessary to set the hands in motion, the work of the old clock has equalled that of the past in every way.

Vignette: Things went well with him until 1929. The crash all but wiped him out. Still, he might have come back had he not tried to cure his financial ills with whisky. Two years ago, he took stock and didn't like what he found. He believed he could lick liquor in the city but thought the country would help. By scraping the very bottom of his financial resources, he got together enough to purchase an upstate farm. After 18 months, he discovered that booze meant nothing. But he was lonely. Merely to receive mail, he inserted a matrimonial advertisement. A letter from a Chicago widow so interested him he went to see her. After they became acquainted, he laid all the facts before her. She weighed them carefully. Then they were married. He is cured of the drink habit, his farm this year not only returned a living but a substantial profit and he and his wife are in love with each other. He is not planning on returning to the city. The country, he holds, has given him too much to make Broadway attractive.

Too Many Letters: Enric Madriguera's name is longer than that of any of the other well-known band leaders. For that reason, the Paramount management figures that his two-weeks engagement there cost an extra $400. The additional expense came through the extra letters in the marquee signs together with extra electricity, extra time for workmen as well as labor of stage hands and display card makers. Undoubtedly the cost would have been still more had his first name been Enric which is the way I persist in writing it though I know better.

George M. Cohan, who holds that Broadway isn't what it used to be. . . . The other evening when he came into the Green room of the Edison, Bobby Haye's orchestra started, "Over There" and a grin appeared on the Cohan features. . . . Noted also Leslie Howard, Jimmy Durante, Fannie Hurst, Fanny Brice and Henry Armetta at nearby tables. . . . While Harry Richman and Dick Merrill sat engaged in earnest conversation. . . . Probably talking over their transatlantic round trip flight. . . . A lot of folks don't know that Richman holds a transport pilot's license and once held an altitude record. . . . Walter O'Keefe swinging up Broadway. . . . Glad to hear him on the air again. . . . Maria Abba, the Italian star of "Tovarich," the first smash hit of the season.

A bright young merchant does business on Interborough subway trains between Times Square and Chambers street. He sells a well-known nickel weekly magazine but doesn't cry his wares. Instead, he hurries through the train and wherever he can find a vacant space beside a passenger lays down a magazine. Having covered a car, he makes a quick return trip and gathers those that haven't been picked up. He never speaks a word but nevertheless makes many sales and thus he justifies his nickel investment in transportation.

Figures usually do not interest me. But those made known recently in connection with the 1939 World's fair do because they indicate, in a way, the size of the undertaking. For instance, the fair will be capable of accommodating 800,000 persons a day or 160,000 an hour, and that's a lot of folks. Before the fair closes, it is estimated that 50,000,000 persons will have passed through the turnstiles. There will be 30,000 benches, and the parking spaces will accommodate 30,000 cars. Ten thousand shade trees are to be set out. The total cost of the fair is estimated at $125,000,000. The first $2,000,000 in profits will go to the city so that the fair site may be maintained as a permanent park.

A contest was conducted like a radio program. The girls listed the songs in order of their preference. A prize will be awarded the girl with the most correct entry. You can tell whether a plant needs moisture in several ways. Put your finger into the soil and if it pulverizes readily, you can be sure it needs water. Or, you can compare the weight of one pot against another, the light one being in need of water. The surest test is to tap the pot with a wooden hammer, or a piece of hard wood like the end of a broom handle. If you hear a hollow sound, you know the plant is dry. If the sound is a dull thud, there is plenty of moisture.

Santa and the Viking

BY SIGRID ARNE

THE STORY SO FAR: The Fairy Queen has enticed the cruel Ice Queen from her palace so that Nils, a Viking, can enter it and rescue Gudrun, the daughter he has been seeking for 300 years.

Chapter Eight

Nils Finds Gudrun

Inside the Ice Queen's palace there was another and more difficult problem for Nils to solve. He found his little daughter, Gudrun, sleeping prettily in her ice prison. But how could he melt the ice? How could he wake her from her long sleep.

He and his two Toyland companions were all alone in the palace. The queen was gone. Her cold winds ran howling for their cave when they saw Nils, the pup, because they remembered how he had chewed one of their brothers to bits. But the place was cold and barren. "B-r-r-r," said Captain Buttons. "Wish I had my fur coat."

"Nonsense," snapped Nils. "You're bragging again. You have no fur coat."

Nils Kneels Beside Her

But they stopped arguing when they saw Nils. He was so happy to see his daughter again that he tiptoed slowly to her ice-couch, and then knelt beside her and caressed the ice in which she was locked. She didn't stir.

The three hunted the whole palace for fire-wood to melt the ice around the little girl. But naturally the Ice Queen had no such thing around her palace. She fears fire as we fear witches.

There wasn't even a stout stick with which Nils could have chipped the ice. They tried to puff on the ice, hoping their warm breaths would melt it. But their breath only turned to small, smoky clouds.

But they stopped arguing when they saw Nils. He was so happy to see his daughter again that he tiptoed slowly to her ice-couch, and then knelt beside her and caressed the ice in which she was locked. She didn't stir.

He tiptoed slowly to her ice-couch . . .

"Oh, we must do something, we're so near," groaned Nils.

Mister Runs For Advice

"Wait here," said Mister, the pup. "I'll run back to Santa for advice." He turned on his fat paws so fast that his hind legs slipped on the ice. He ran and ran for hours and hours until his paws were leaking saw-dust. Finally he fell limply outside the door of Toyland, with just enough strength left to "Woof!" in a whisper.

Santa was fitting together a new top train, but he heard the faint bark so near. He was so delighted. He had been worrying about Nils and the two toys.

"Hurrah!" he shouted, picking up little Mister in his arms, and carrying him to the fire. "Where's Nils?"

Mister Woofed out the whole story, and Santa immediately set to work on a plan about which I will tell you tomorrow.

Broadway: "Go West, Young Man." Mae West, surrounded by one of her company's biggest publicity campaigns in an effort to bolster her slipping popularity, comes to the Broadway screen in all her glory, this time in the role of a motion picture queen with all the trimmings. Taken from the vastly successful stage play "Personal Appearance," the show has been dialed down to fit Mae West's peculiar type of humor and the picture is oftentimes uproariously funny and sometimes a little off key as it tells of the adventure of a movie queen whose car breaks down at a farmhouse and what occurs when she decides to focus her charm and attention on the handsome young farm boy. The buxom Miss West gives her best performance in a long time and her cast is well chosen and includes Warren William, Randolph Scott, Lyle Talbot, Alice Brady, Isabel Jewel, Margaret Perry and Etienne Girardot. A Paramount picture directed by Henry Hathaway with dialogue and screen adaptation by Mae West.

Kingston: "Isle of Fury" and "Sinners." Somerset Naughton is the author of the first attraction at the Kingston and this South Sea tale tells the peculiar history of a white woman among a group of derelict white men and savages. The story is both romantic and bitter and Margaret Lindsay, Humphrey Bogart, and Donald Woods are featured.

"7 Sinners" is the story of a gay blade of a detective who finds himself trapped into many hair-raising adventures in his quest for a group of international crooks. The show was produced and filmed in England under the British-Gaumont banner and it has all the zest, excitement and speed of a British made mystery yarn. Edmund Lowe and Constance Cummings are starred.

Orpheum: "The Lady Consents" and "36 Hours to Kill." Both of the features at the Orpheum are slightly aged but nevertheless filled with interest and excitement. The first is a straight emotional drama with Ann Harding emoting in the style which has made her famous. Herbert Marshall is co-starred with Miss Harding in this study of a woman and her struggle to find happiness against grim odds. "36 Hours to Kill" is the associate feature, an adventure filled romance with Brian Donlevy and Gloria Stuart featured.

Tomorrow

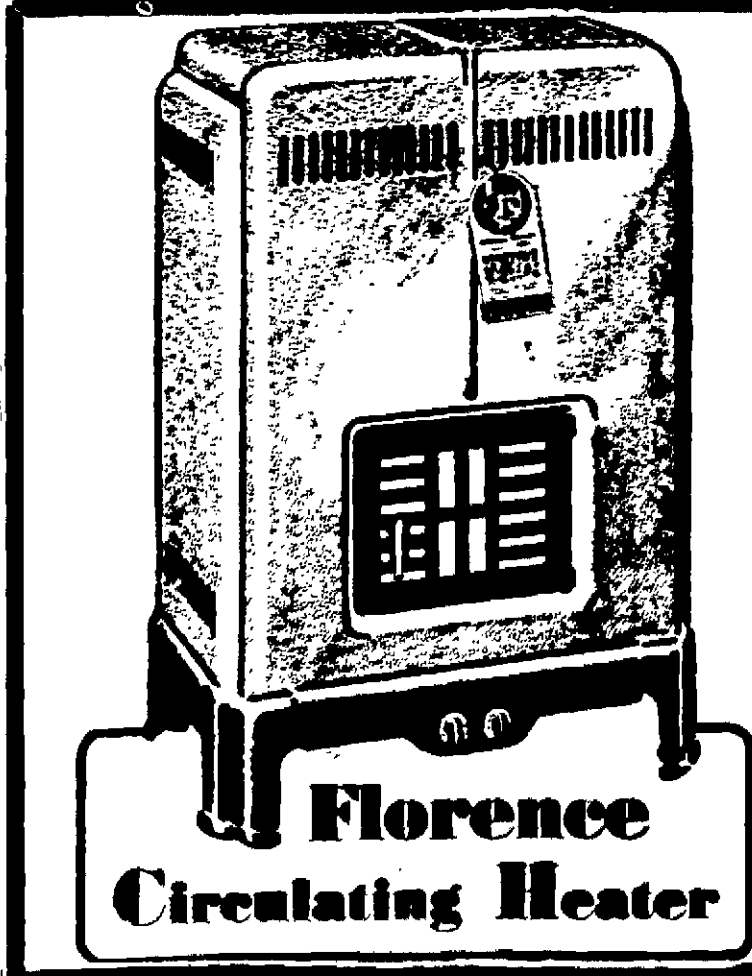

Broadway: "The Gay Desperado." Nino Martini, that cocktail of song, has a rough but romantic time of it below the Rio Grande in this story of a singer and handyman in a little movie house in Mexico who suddenly skyrockets to fame when Braganza, Mexican bandit chieftain, hears him sing and takes him into his band of cut-throats. Braganza makes his find a famous singer but during all this there is a kidnapping of a rich American which leads to an inevitable bit of romance between the singer and an American girl. Mr. Martini sings beautifully and is satisfactory as an actor, the settings are eye filling and authentic, and a fine supporting cast includes Leo Carrillo, Ida Lupino, Stanley Fields and Mischa Auer. Several new songs are offered in this show as well as some operatic numbers. A United Artists picture directed by Rouben Mamoulian.

Kingston: Same.

Orpheum: "Shipmates Forever." The singing and dancing combination of Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler, surrounded by an all star cast of players, glorifies the Naval Academy and the United States Navy in this story of a boy who thought the martial spirit was of little worth until he learned the value of service to his country. Miss Keeler has some opportunity to dance and does a good job of it and Mr. Powell manages to dash off a song or two during the play a rapid action.

Plants grown in water should never have the direct sunlight. They look well in the direct sunlight, to be sure, but it will set them back in time, and they will be much better off without it.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JACOBSON

New York, Dec. 15 (AP)—Steel and specialties attracted fresh buying support in today's stock market and numerous issues posted advances of fractions to around 2 points.

More public participation was noted in brokerage offices, the theory being that part of the recent huge store of extra dividends was finding its way into securities purchases.

Fast dealings at the start put the ticker tape behind for a while. Selling appeared here and there later and, near the final hour, there were several conspicuous soft spots. The activity also dwindled. Transfers approximated 2,450,000 shares.

Shares out in front included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible, Ludlum, Sears Roebuck, U. S. Industrial Alcohol, Schenley, J. I. Case, Deere, Consolidated Edison, North American, Anaconda, American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, Continental Oil, American Machine & Foundry, Kellogg-Hayes, Sante Fe, Atlantic Coast Line, Delaware & Hudson, Yellow Truck, Porto Rican-American Tobacco, "A", Warner Bros., Loew's, American Locomotive, Baldwin, Pullman, Pressed Steel Car, American Shipbuilding, United Aircraft, Canada Dry, Commercial Solvents and General Outdoor Advertising.

In a restricted area were General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, National Distillers, American Telephone, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania, Standard Oil of N. J., Consolidated Edison, American Power & Light, Westinghouse, General Electric and Goodyear.

Down 2 or more each at one time were Crown Cork, Newport Industries and Amerasia Corp. Kennecott, Allied Chemical and U. S. Rubber were backward.

See New Monetary And Banking Bill

Submission of an administration monetary and banking bill during the coming congressional session seemed assured when Washington officials operating in those fields convened to discuss plans. Such a measure probably will provide for new types of credit control and possibly for consolidating bank charters and examining powers under one federal agency.

On grounds lower courts failed to follow proper procedure, Supreme Court ordered retrial of Duke Power case, involving test of PWA right to provide funds to cities for publicly-owned electric plants. Action removed case as a test, because two other suits involving identical problems are likely to precede it to the highest tribunal. Supreme Court also decided to take jurisdiction in appeal of Ohio Bell Telephone which is fighting State Public Utilities Commission orders fixing rates, valuations and depreciation.

Federal Judge Gore, Nashville, granted 19 major power companies and injunction restraining "further expansion or extension of activities" of TVA.

Steel ingot production this week is scheduled at 73.2 per cent of capacity, highest since May, 1930. Year ago rate was 54.6 per cent.

Baldwin Locomotive November orders, including those of subsidiaries, were $8,876,849, largest in seven years, vs. $2,311,739 year ago.

Norfolk & Western's 1936 net is estimated at more than $22 a common share, highest since 1929.

Wabash November gross is estimated at $3,922,000, up 13 per cent from a year ago. In first seven days of this month Illinois Central gross was an estimated $2,470,000, up 23 per cent.

October net income reports yesterday included Atchafalpa, $1,649,528 vs. $1,433,736 year ago; Chicago & Northwestern, $657,373 vs. $180,330 (loss).

Revisions in packers' contracts, in line with Robinson-Patman act, will affect 1936 net profit of American and Continental Can. Each will be hit to extent of about 50 cents a share, but Continental is expected to earn $2.25 a share in dividends this year and American probably will better 1935's showing of $5.83 a common share.

Warner Brothers earnings in quarter ended November 25 were more than $2,000,000 vs. $1,931,316 year ago, according to an estimate by Ivan Culbertson, who presided at annual meeting in absence of Harry Warner. Company is negotiating for refinancing, he said.

The Term "Arab"

The term "Arab", as generally used, signifies any people professing Islam, however dark-skinned they may be, states a writer in the Indianapolis News. Abraham is considered as the progenitor of the "chosen people" and the Jews trace their descent from him. Ishmael, son of Abraham and Hagar, who was Egyptian, is regarded by the Mohammedans as their ancestor. He is the ancestor of twelve tribes of desert rangers, according to Genesis 25: 12-18. "Ishmael" is used in a wide sense of the wilder, roving peoples encircling Canaan from the northeast to the south, related to but on a lower rank than the "sons" of Isaac. It is practically identical with the term "Arabia" as used by the Assyrians.

A Famous Oak Tree

One of the most famous oaks was the Charter Oak of Hartford, Conn. Indians asked the colonists to spare it when clearing the land because it had guided their ancestors for centuries as to the time of planting corn. "When the leaves are the size of a mouse's ears," they declared, "then is the time to put the seed into the ground." The tree was spared and later became famous when Connecticut's colonial charter was hidden in it to prevent invading British from taking it away. A windstorm blew the tree down in 1858. It was so venerated that the bells of the city were tolled and a band played funeral dirges over its ruins.

Wooden paddle wheels replaced sails on ocean liners in 1822 giving increased speed.

The Olympian Club

Mrs. Cragin was the hostess of the Olympian Club this week, the meeting on Monday evening being the last before the Christmas holidays. Being in the nature of a pre-Christmas gathering, carols were sung and Christmas stories given before the roll call of "Quotations from Shakespeare." This was followed by an exceedingly interesting interpretation of "King Lear" given by Miss Decker. For its Christmas remembering, this club packed a box of food supplies, tucking in a bit of money for some one who might not have had so merry a Christmas but for their kindness. The January meeting will be on the fourth of the month with Miss Decker.

Sorosis

The members of Sorosis met on Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gifford. An announcement was made to the effect that the Better Speech Classes at the Y. W. C. A. would begin hereafter at 9:45 a. m. Mrs. Culver had the paper for the day on "Architecture" as the first of a series of papers on "English Arts," making it exceedingly interesting and informative. Mrs. Edmonston was the hostess of the Twentieth Century Club on Monday afternoon. The club members voted to contribute $5 to the Mayor's Christmas Cheer Fund and also to send letters to the Tuberculosis Hospital Christmas-tide festival. Mrs. Harry B. Walker had a short class on "Better Speech," after which two valuable papers were given on "Our State Department and How It Works" by Miss Husted who dwelt for the most part on state expenditures, and by Mrs. Edmonston whose topic was state department. The holiday recess follows the meeting of Monday.

Zammillo-Belsito

St. Joseph's Church, Glasco, was the scene of a very pretty wedding Sunday afternoon, when Miss Rose Belsito, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Belsito of Glasco, became the bride of Victor Zammillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Zammillo of Saugerties. The ceremony was performed at 1:30 o'clock by the Rev. Joseph E. Rivoli, pastor of the church. The bride was given in marriage by her father. The bridesmaid was Miss Josephine Zammillo, and the maid of honor, Miss Fanny Battagliolo. The flower girls were Antoinette Battagliolo, Mary Belsito, Antoinette Morille and Margaret Mezzacane. The groom's best man was Louis Provenzano.

OLD CIVILIZATION OF ALEUTS BARED

Dr. Hrdlicka Studies Migration of Eskimo Ancestors.

Washington.—The foggy, desolate, 1,500-mile island chain of the Aleutians was a second important bridge between Asia and North America for later stages of the migration of the ancestors of the Indians and the Eskimos, the first being the Bering strait, further north.

Such is the conclusion of Dr. Ales Hrdlicka, curator of physical anthropology of the Smithsonian institution, who has just returned to Washington after a summer spent in an archeological reconnaissance of these rocky, volcanic, inhospitable islands. Today but a few of these islands are sparsely populated, many of them being completely uninhabited; but Dr. Hrdlicka obtained abundant evidence that at some time in the past they had many villages, some of them of considerable size, covering acres of ground.

The probability is, Dr. Hrdlicka says, in a Smithsonian bulletin, that the islands were not used in the earlier stages of the coming of man into America and that the Aleuts themselves, the inhabitants of the islands when the Russians arrived, were among the latest of the Mongoloid groups to come out of Asia—probably just before the ancestors of the Eskimos.

Dr. Hrdlicka, with his students, made excavations in old village sites on several now uninhabited islands and assembled a large collection of material of all sorts.

The richest collection was that of mummies, unique feature of the prehistoric Aleut culture. They are dedicated bodies wrapped in hides—often elaborately, with inner wrappings of fur or grass matting—which were stored tier upon tier in almost inaccessible caves and rock crevices and which have been preserved there for centuries.

The method of preparing these mummies was so elaborate and specialized, Dr. Hrdlicka says, that the custom almost certainly must have had a long development in Asia and eventually may be an important clue in tracing the Aleutian migrants to their ancestral home.

Bilingual Catechism Is Published in Hong Kong

Vatican City.—The Catholic Truth Society of Hongkong has published a bilingual catechism, according to a report to the Vatican from China.

The Chinese text used is that of the new Chinese catechism prepared by a special commission in accordance with a resolution adopted by the first plenary council of China in 1924.

The English translation, which runs parallel with the Chinese text, was prepared by the Rev. D. Donnelly, of Hongkong.

The booklet, which consists of eighty double pages, is printed on fine quality paper and reflects credit on the Nazareth Press of Hongkong. The Nazareth Press is directed by the Paris Foreign Missions Society.

"It often happens," a Vatican official said, "that Chinese converted abroad are taught the elements of the faith in a foreign language and remain, unfortunately, ignorant of Catholic terminology in their own tongue. With a bilingual text like this one, they need no longer feel that Christianity is something predominantly foreign to their former life and habits of thought."

Children Under 5 Found Chief Victims of Burns

Washington.—The United States public health service has been looking into fatal accidents of childhood. Its report on the death rate from accidental burns shows that children under five years of age are most likely to suffer fatal accidental burns.

One encouraging aspect in this study of death showed that the "safety first" campaigns of the past decade had brought results. The records showed that there had been a constant downward trend in the number of deaths by accidental burns in all sections of the country during the 1925-32 period covered in the survey.

Deaths from these causes were reduced from 3,365 in 1925 to 2,128 in 1932.

Very young children—those in the first two years of their life—appear unable to escape many of the hazards of accidental burns while children past five are able to take care of themselves, according to the survey.

Ancient Roman Camp Is Unearthed by Laborers

Turin, Italy.—The demolition of old quarters in this city have brought to light, ten yards below street level, in a strata of dry sand, a perfectly preserved Roman camp, complete to all details and equipment. Swords, spears and Roman standards uncovered do not even show signs of rust.

Workers digging to remove foundations of obsolete houses were perplexed to find a well-built wall, the bricks of which were so well cemented together that it was unusually difficult to demolish.

When experts were called it was discovered that these bricks were part of a wall of a Roman camp.

The old standard—the "base green"—the well-designed well-cut black is as smart as ever 35—your throw in a little color. Copper, coral, green-gold, turquoise and the very new red-rose, which is a sort of soft, dusty rose with an undertone of white, are the favored colors. See them in costume jewelry, belts, boxes and sachets.

Justice Schirick Presides at Court

Supreme Court was convened this morning at 10 o'clock and in the absence of Justice Foster who was taken ill over the week-end, Justice Harry E. Schirick presided. He will continue the term until Justice Foster is able to return, which probably will be next Monday.

The case which was partially tried before Justice Foster last week had been adjourned until the return of Justice Foster when the summations will be made and the charges delivered. The jurors on that case were cautioned by Justice Schirick to refrain from discussion of the case until it is finally submitted and the panel was then returned to the general panel for service on other cases this week.

Due to the uncertainty as to whether Justice Schirick would be able to preside this morning, there was no case ready at 10 o'clock but No. 18-A, Elizabeth Albright, as administratrix of the estate of Augustus Albright, against Sidney Black, was announced as ready at 2 o'clock and court recessed until that time. This case arises out of the death of Mr. Albright who was struck by the truck driven by Mr. Black last summer at the junction of Abel and Wurtz streets. Harry H. Flemming appears for plaintiff and Andrew J. Cook for defendant.

Pope Pius Suffers Relapse Today

Vatican City, Dec. 15 (AP)—Pope Pius, partly paralyzed in his lower legs, suffered a relapse today, reliable Vatican sources reported.

The attack occurred during the afternoon, high church officials declared, after the Pontiff had spent his most laborious day since he became ill.

Dr. Amanti Milani, the Holy Father's personal physician, was summoned and administered a heart stimulant.

The Pope rallied somewhat from the treatment but appeared to suffer from extreme fatigue afterward, reliable sources said.

His condition earlier had been reported somewhat improved with increased alleviation of congestion of the circulatory system.

She was born in Italy 75 years ago and is survived by one son, Joseph Ange, of Highland. The interment was in St. Peter's Cemetery, Poughkeepsie.

Towing on Hudson Still Continues

Ice in the Hudson river runs from 1 1/2 to 4 inches thick, but river towing has not been halted yet. The west channel in the river is open from New York to Albany, and is kept open by the big ocean steamers that run up the river as far as Albany. Last evening a tow of 16 barges from New York passed up the river and arrived in Albany late that night.

The heaviest ice in the river is close to shore and out toward the center of the stream it runs thinner. The only halt to navigation was last week for a night and a day when the river was clogged with one of the heaviest fogs in some time.

HOOR OF MUSIC AT HILDEBRANDT STUDIO

Saturday afternoon, December 12, an hour of music was observed at the studio of Miss Jennie R. Hildebrandt, 165 Clinton avenue.

This was the first of a series of musicales, the purpose being to give every opportunity possible for the pupils to express themselves and also to become acquainted with the subject they are studying.

Florence Crosswell was chairman of the hour and announced the numbers in a very pleasing manner.

The pupils who participated are from 10 years to high school age and have taken from five lessons to three years' study with Miss Hildebrandt.

Program:

Duet—Song of the Katydid..... Jane Stewart and Miss Hildebrandt

Carillon..... Grace Helen Nash

Swans in the Moonlight..... Gail Welles

Maureen Troy

En Route March..... Engleman

Jane Stewart

Castle in the Air..... Ford

Andante from the 8th Symphony..... Tschakowsky

Dorothy Tancredi

Narcissus..... Nertin

Edith Ellison

Miss Hildebrandt herself then took charge of the "Musical appreciation" part of the program, the work chosen for this study being Mozart's C Major Symphony, known as "The Jupiter Symphony."

It included a short biographical sketch and an explanation of the symphonic form. The themes given were as Dr. Daniel Gregory Mason had arranged them for the piano and were played for the pupils and audience.

The phonograph records were those of Miss Kate S. Chittenden, noted educator, composer and teacher, thus affording a remarkably fine manner of becoming acquainted with the form and musical thought of one of the world's famous compositions.

The additional "Hours of Music" to be given at Miss Hildebrandt's studio will have varied programs and will also present the work of the pupils and the studio. Friends of the studio and lovers of music will be heartily welcomed.

Politics at Random

WESTERN irregulars, merely tolerated in more prosperous days, may at long last have the voice they have sought in formulating Republican policies in the senate. The hard pressed Republican minority finally has come to them, with more than a casual hint of new liberalism.

That is a important concession. The irregulars, or progressives, are offered definite place in party councils, and it would seem that more than organization matters is involved.

The offer of a truce comes at a time when most of the "black sheep" of other years are out of the party. Some of them (Norris of Nebraska, for instance) have aligned themselves openly with Mr. Roosevelt. Others have virtually no party ties. They are free agents and owe no political party debts.

It is that the Republican senators—there are 17 of them of varying degrees of regularity—have a program of their own for rehabilitation of the party, and are making a special bid for support in the west? That territory, once mainstay, has been especially barren of Republican votes in the last two Presidential elections.

IT IS significant that the senators sought to pour oil on their own troubled waters before the December meeting of the Republican national committee in Chicago. They say they want the lost liberals back in the party as equals, and they also agree to temper their former conservative stand in legislative matters.

Will the committeemen see eye to eye with them? Representative Snell, minority leader in the house, already has said that he does not. He is against a coalition of house Republicans—farmer-laborite and progressives such as is suggested for the senate. Nor does he think house Republicans would approve of such a move. The minority there, he said, would stand on its own feet.

The tentative senate proposal is that all senators whose political origin was Republican would be invited to attend the party caucus which Senator McNary as minority leader will call just before congress convenes. Thus Norris, an independent now; La Follette, a progressive, and Shipstead and Lundeen, farmer-laborite, are included. Not one of these men supported Mr. Taft in 1912, they opposed him vigorously.

This bid for support emphasizes the light of the minority senators. They truly are the "have nots." Without aid from the irregulars they will not even have adequate representation on the thirty-three standing committees. The Democratic majority is so large that a few recalcitrant senators will make no difference, and Vice President Garner is an old hand at holding party lines. Minority senators can find little for encouragement in the Democratic lineup.

THE minority situation is complicated further by last November's open rebellion. Of the 17 senators listed as Republicans,

By BYRON PRICE

Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington

Several campaigned for Mr. Roosevelt. Johnson of California supported him also in 1912. Frazier was for Lemke. Borah devoted himself to his own campaign. Mr. Laydon did not carry Idaho, but Borah was re-elected. Even McNary, the voice of his party in the senate, said but slight attention to the national ticket.

It can be seen that the Republicanism of many of these men is nominal. There no longer can be control of the minority that does not take into consideration their purposes.

Two new Republican senators, Lodge of Massachusetts and Bridges of New Hampshire enter the capitol with their party regularly unquestioned. They arrive at a time that augurs well for their personal futures, and they will step immediately into important posts that under ordinary conditions would not be available to first termers. Both are young men.

IT SEEMS evident that regardless of the rest of the party the Republican senators will test a liberal path before trying anything else. Some months must pass before the practical results of their harmony proposal can be determined. In any event, an effort to solidify the Republican and progressive forces of the senate has been made.

A welcome home sign has been tacked up for the bolters. Is a new definition of the word Republican in the making? Only a few years ago not a voice was raised in defense of the progressives when George Moses derisively called them "soils of wild jackasses." That would not happen now.

UNITED JEWISH CHARITY DRIVE MAKING PROGRESS

The various teams of the United Jewish charity campaign in Kingston attended a dinner meeting at the Stuyvesant Hotel last night and reported favorable progress in the campaign.

The funds necessary to take care of all Jewish charities in Kingston and other national charity requirements which have been met yearly by Kingston Jewry must be raised in this campaign to do away with the usual numerous requests which are made throughout the year.

For the past week committees have been at work collecting funds. The drive to date has produced very encouraging results.

It is urgent that all workers having cards which have not been canvassed as yet complete their work so that they report them at the meeting Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock, to be held at the Social Hall of Temple Emanuel. The purpose of this meeting is to secure a final report.

The published interview aroused keen interest, since it was assumed the primate's opinions were those that he conveyed to Pope Pius during a recent audience. Prelates said the cardinal would not have granted such an interview unless he had obtained Vatican consent.

preying on the rich traffic of the Spanish Main, stalked their prey from the beautiful coves of the islands. Here the slave trade once flourished, and here pirate raids were succeeded by bloody slave insurrections.

St. Thomas was once the center of the American slave trade. In days of the sailing vessel, St. Thomas, the capital of the islands, was an important port of call for ships' supplies. Virgin Islands sugar, bay rum, and the famous St. Croix rum were shipped to distant ports. When the day of the sailing vessel had gone, St. Thomas became an important coaling point. However, its importance as a colony steadily declined and when the United States took over the islands in 1917, they were, to use a phrase of a former President, "an effective poorhouse."

Wisconsin Head Backed by Students

Madison, Wis., Dec. 15 (AP)—University of Wisconsin students threatened today to walk out of class rooms if President Glenn Frank were forced to resign by the board of regents.

Groups of students went about the campus yesterday sounding out sentiment in favor of a strike. The board, of which one faction had disagreed with the president over administration policies, will hold a special meeting tomorrow.

A spokesman for the students said that between 2,000 and 3,000 of the 8,000 enrolled have been lined up to support the president and that many more would be added. Donald Heun, president of the inter-fraternity board, said fraternity members were solidly behind Dr. Frank. The Madison Alumni Association protested the regents' procedure and named a special committee to recommend appropriate action.

Black Legion Head Held in Hospital

Cumberland, Md., Dec. 15 (AP)—Isaac "Peg Leg" White, reputed founder of Michigan's Black Legion terrorist gang, was under heavy guard—and minus his peg leg—in a hospital here today.

White was arrested in Oldtown, near here yesterday. He was sick with a cold and offered no resistance to Michigan and Allegany county officers who had traced him through automobile license numbers.

His arrest left only Virgil F. (Bert) Edinger, O. O. of the 22 men indicted for criminal syndicalism in connection with the gang's activities, still at large. The charges against them were based on allegations they were plotting to seize arsenals and overthrow the government. Investigators in Detroit said the date for the uprising had been set for last September 16.

White, former Detroit policeman, was traced to Oldtown through the purchase of an automobile here.

Many Problems Facing Roosevelt Back from Trip

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—President Roosevelt returns to the White House tonight to face one of the busiest periods of his notably active career. Scores of vital problems await his attention.

He will find the maritime strike, which he studied just before leaving a month ago, still unsettled. A batch of polite notes from foreign governments, accompanied by no cash, will remind him the war debt problem also is unsolved.

His calendar will show he has only three weeks to prepare for the opening of Congress and five for his inauguration. Speaker Bankhead will confer with him this week on legislative proposals.

Strong pressure probably will be exerted to get Mr. Roosevelt to act at once in the prolonged waterfront strike. This may bring a quick move to organize the new maritime commission on a permanent instead of a temporary basis.

Scores of vacancies in important federal posts make a series of major appointments likely, even if the President should decide not to reorganize his cabinet.

Some changes in the cabinet were regarded in informed quarters however, as almost certain. Secretary Woodring is heading the War Department on a temporary appointment. There have been rumors of a half dozen switches.

Three of the most important "little cabinet" posts are vacant—the undersecretaries of state, treasury and agriculture. Retirement of Rexford G. Tugwell from the latter post also leaves the office of resettlement administrator open.

One of the most prized posts now vacant is that of comptroller general, which has been vacant since J. R. McCart retired last summer.

Public attention will center largely on the President's plans for the next Congress and the new budget. The budget is expected to be ready when Congress meets on January 5, but the all important estimate for next year's relief program may be delayed.

Even before he decides how much to ask for work relief next year, Mr. Roosevelt must decide how much more money will be needed to complete this year's program. There have been indications at least $500,000,000 will be asked.

In shaping his legislative program, the President's chief problems probably will concern neutrality, farm benefits and control, and demands for a substitute for NRA.

We think of the chrysanthemum in terms of decoration, but in China it is still revered as a sacred thing, and pilgrimages are made yearly to the River Kai where natives drink of the petals-strewn waters in the hope of gaining long life.

France Defaults On Her War Debt

Washington, Dec. 15 (AP)—France joined the semi-annual procession of war debt defaulters today, but expressed the hope it sometime might be able to start negotiations for a settlement.

"The distressing economic depression which the country has just undergone and the state of world economic relations do not permit it as yet to present any proposals," said the French note to R. Walton Moore, acting secretary of state.

The message, delivered late yesterday by Ambassador Andre De Laboulaye, contained the hope that world conditions, in the indefinite future, "will permit it to open through normal diplomatic channels negotiations with a view to an arrangement acceptable to both countries."

France thus joined other powers in defaulting once more on payments which have been in arrears from the 12 principal debtors, except Finland, largely since the Hoover moratorium of 1932.

The total of regular semi-annual payments due today is $155,093,973, plus $1,159,958,451 previously due and unpaid on the aggregate war debt of more than $12,000,000,000.

The total indebtedness of the various countries to the United States follows:

Austria, $23,898,429; Belgium, $432,042,469; Czechoslovakia, $165,576,380; Estonia, $19,560,959; Finland, $8,448,982; France, $4,081,227,249; Great Britain, $5,107,446,980; Greece, $33,399,686; Hungary, $2,257,824; Italy, $2,017,013,118; Latvia, $8,054,808; Lithuania, $7,207,793; Poland, $244,789,002; Rumania, $63,949,966; and Yugoslavia, $61,625,000.

Finland Pays
Helsinki, Finland, Dec. 15 (AP)—Finland considers debts "payable when due." Finance Minister Juho Niukkanen said today, explaining his country's continued record in alone sending its semi-annual instalment to Washington. "Finland is repaying the United States and all other loans," the minister added, "because in our opinions all debts are payable when due. The payments offer no difficulty. The budget is balanced, and the national debt is being reduced every year. Taxation is not heavy and there is no unemployment."

Devaluation of the franc has increased the cost of living 40 per cent in Australia, and with it came discontinuance of passenger service by the one direct line to America and Australia.

Great Interest in Lighting Contest

Plans for the Christmas Lighting Contest, which is being sponsored by the Kingston Junior Chamber of Commerce, are rapidly nearing completion and it is anticipated that the contest will be opened for entries the latter part of this week. Present indications are that this will be one of the most popular contests of this type ever held in Kingston and many inquiries have already been received by the committee in charge in spite of the fact that no formal announcement of the contest has as yet been made.

In anticipation of a large number of entries, an array of prizes is being donated to the contest by the merchants an business men of the city that will well reward the winners of the contest for their efforts and make for keen rivalry among the competitors. An ample number of grand prizes and valuable merit awards will be put up for competition to assure every contestant an excellent opportunity to share in them.

An announcement will be made shortly of the rules governing the contest, the list of prizes and how entries may be made.
